Case No. 3:16-cv-06066-JSC

CASE MANAGEMENT STATEMENT

Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. § 552

Date: August 10, 2017

Time: 1:30 p.m.

Courtroom: F

Judge: Hon. Magistrate Judge Jacqueline
Scott Corley

25
26 Pursuant to Civil L.R. 16-9, Plaintiffs American Civil Liberties Union Immigrants' Rights 27 Project and Center for Gender & Refugee Studies at the University of California Hastings College 28 of the Law (collectively, "Plaintiffs") and Defendant U.S. Immigration and Customs

1 Enforcement, an agency of the Department of Homeland Security (hereafter, “ICE,” “Defendant,” 2 or “Agency”) hereby submit the following joint initial Case Management Statement.

3 1. Jurisdiction and Service: This action arises under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 4 U.S.C. § 552 (“FOIA”). The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this FOIA action pursuant 5 to 5 U.S.C. section 552(a)(4)(B) and 28 U.S.C. sections 1331 and 1346. The parties do not 6 contest personal jurisdiction or venue in this case. No parties remain to be served.

7 Defendant notes that “[a]bsent a waiver, sovereign immunity shields the Federal 8 Government and its agencies from suit.” FDIC v. Meyer, 510 U.S. 471, 475 (1994). The waiver 9 in this case has only been asserted under FOIA, and no other provisions.

10 2. Facts

11 Plaintiffs’ Contentions: This is an action under the FOIA to shed light on the federal 12 government’s treatment of asylum seekers. Plaintiffs seek information regarding the 13 government’s detention of asylum seekers who recently arrived in the United States, in light of an 14 existing Agency directive providing for their release in appropriate cases.

15 In October 2015, Plaintiffs made FOIA requests for information regarding ICE’s detention 16 of asylum seekers who are found to have a credible fear of persecution. Under a 2009 ICE 17 Directive, arriving asylum seekers who establish a credible fear should not be detained if they 18 meet specified criteria. Plaintiffs sought to enable the public to evaluate whether ICE detention 19 practices contravene the public interest, ICE’s own Directive, and the constitutional and statutory 20 rights of asylum seekers. Plaintiffs specifically asked for statistical records that ICE is required to 21 maintain pursuant to the Directive, as well as related policy documents and Agency 22 communications that are in ICE’s possession. Yet more than a year and a half after the requests 23 were filed, ICE had provided only a fraction of these records. Having exhausted administrative 24 remedies, Plaintiffs brought this suit.

25 Since the filing of Plaintiffs’ complaint, on January 10, 2017, ICE made a Second 26 Supplemental Response to Plaintiffs’ FOIA requests. While this response included some of the 27 outstanding policy documents and Agency communications, they are heavily redacted, 28 purportedly pursuant to several FOIA exemptions. ICE provided no explanation of how its 1 claimed exemptions meet the applicable legal standards with regard to particular redactions and 2 withheld documents, but merely recited those standards in boilerplate form. Nor did ICE explain 3 its record search, including the search terms and type of search performed.

4 Moreover, while the Second Supplemental Response contained additional statistical 5 reports, at least one category of documents that ICE is required to maintain pursuant to the 6 Directive (analyses of monthly reports) remains missing from ICE's production, and other 7 responsive records were not produced. The records that were produced contain terms that need to 8 be defined. The statistical records also cannot be deciphered without unique identifiers for the 9 individuals involved (in place of identification numbers that ICE redacted). In addition, the 10 records contain unexplained discrepancies in the data.

11 Defendant's Contentions: Defendant contends that, with the production of the Second 12 Supplemental Response, it has complied with Plaintiffs' FOIA requests. Defendant objects to 13 Plaintiffs' recitation of facts, and refers the Court to Defendant's Answer and Affirmative 14 Defenses to Plaintiffs' Complaint for Injunctive and Declaratory Relief, filed January 5, 2017.

15 3. Legal Issues

16 Issue #1: Search for and Production of Data Records

17 Plaintiffs' Position: Defendant's search was inadequate with respect to Plaintiffs' data 18 request (2016-ICFO-01574). The agency must conduct a search reasonably calculated to uncover 19 all relevant documents. Hamdan v. U.S. Dep't of Justice, 797 F.3d 759, 770-71 (9th Cir. 2015).
 20 A search may be inadequate where "a review of the record raises substantial doubt, particularly in 21 view of well-defined requests and positive indications of overlooked materials." Id. at 771.

22 Review of the record raises substantial doubt about the adequacy of Defendant's search 23 and reveals the existence or likely existence of responsive documents that were not produced.
 24 Plaintiffs' data request sought records from 2010 onward that ICE is required to create under its 25 own Parole Directive: namely, (1) monthly reports by the ICE Field Office Directors on parole 26 decisions; (2) related analyses by the Assistant Director for Operations, and (3) quality assurance 27 reports by the Assistant Director for Operations. See ICE Directive 11002.1 ¶¶ 8.11, 8.12.

28 Plaintiffs sought all three categories of documents created from January 2010 to the 1 present. Although Defendant recently produced monthly field office reports dating back to 2010, 2 it has produced no analyses of monthly reports, and only one quality assurance report from 2010.

 3 Thus, Plaintiffs maintain that Defendant has failed to conduct an adequate search for and to 4 produce records responsive to its data request. Plaintiffs ask that Defendant produce these 5 remaining records or confirm that they do not exist. Additionally, Plaintiffs request that 6 Defendants produce data reports through the end of July 2017. Plaintiffs' request of October 7 2015 sought data reports from January 2010 "to the present." The reports eventually produced up 8 through September 2015 are no longer current as a result of the agency's failure to meet its 9 obligations under the FOIA, including statutory time limits, necessitating the instant litigation.

10 Plaintiffs also seek basic information necessary to understand Defendant's data reports, 11 including (1) supplementation and clarification of its glossary of terms; (2) assignment of a 12 unique identifier to each individual considered for parole; and (3) an explanation of numerous 13 discrepancies and ambiguities in the data.<sup>1</sup> This information falls within the scope of Plaintiffs' 14 data request as Plaintiffs are unable to understand the data records without it.

15 Defendant's Position: Defendant contends that it has made an adequate search, reasonably 16 calculated to uncover all relevant documents. Defendant also contends that certain of the 17 information and documents that Plaintiffs are now requesting are outside of the scope of the 18 original request. For example, Plaintiffs now request monthly reports through July 2017.
 19 Plaintiffs' original request and original search "cut-off" date is for October 2015, and any records 20 subsequent to that date would fall outside of the scope of the original request.

21 Plaintiffs also request that Defendant edit and create records, which is not required under 22 FOIA.

23 Issue #2: Search of Defendant's Records Search Regarding Plaintiffs' Policy Request

24 Plaintiffs' Position: Plaintiffs' policy request sought a broad range of records—including 25 "internal memoranda, guidelines, worksheets, training materials, reports, or other agency

27 <sup>1</sup> These include discrepancies between the number of actual entries in the spreadsheets and the 28 total cases reported in Defendant's summary charts, and discrepancies between the number of parole decisions in the spreadsheets and publicly available data on the number of relevant asylum seekers whom Defendant is required to consider for parole.

1 communications”—regarding the application of ICE’s enforcement priorities to parole requests.

2 Plaintiffs believe there is “substantial”—if not more serious—doubt that ICE conducted a 3 reasonably adequate search for the requested records. Hamdan, 797 F.3d at 771. ICE’s own 4 monthly data reports list “enforcement priority” or “recent entrant/enforcement priority” or 5 “enforcement priority 1” as a reason for hundreds of denials of parole. This strongly suggests that 6 there are “internal memoranda, guidelines, worksheets, training materials, reports, or other 7 agency communications” on how the enforcement priorities are applied in parole decisions.
 8 Although ICE has produced some of these documents, Plaintiffs seek an affidavit describing 9 ICE’s search—including search terms used—to be satisfied that ICE has met its FOIA 10 obligations. See Oglesby v. United States Dep’t. of the Army, 920 F.2d 57, 68 (D.C. Cir. 1990) 11 (agency must provide affidavit “averring that all files likely to contain responsive materials (if 12 such materials exist) were searched”).

13 Defendant’s Position: Defendant contends that it has made an adequate search, reasonably 14 calculated to uncover all relevant documents. If required, Defendant will provide an agency 15 affidavit at the relevant time, specifically if the parties file motions for summary judgment.

16 Issue #3: ICE’s Claimed Exemptions

17 Plaintiffs’ Position: Finally, Defendant withheld portions of the records produced in 18 response to both requests pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §§ 552(b)(2), (5), (6), (7)(C) and 19 (7)(E). Defendant merely asserts, without explanation, that certain information and/or records 20 meet the standards outlined in 5 U.S.C. §552(b). It is well-settled that FOIA’s “exemptions ‘must 21 be narrowly construed.’” ACLU of N. Cal. v. FBI, No. C 12-03728 SI, 2014 WL 4629110 (N.D.
 22 Cal. Sept. 16, 2014), at *2 (quoting John Doe Agency v. John Doe Corp., 493 U.S. 146, 154 23 (1989)). “The government agency bears the ultimate burden of proving that a particular 24 document or redaction falls within one of the nine statutory exemptions to the disclosure 25 requirement.” Id. at *3.

26 Defendant has provided only boilerplate explanations of their withholdings. Moreover, 27 Defendant has failed to identify any documents withheld in their entirety, to state the nature of 28 those documents, and to justify withholding of them. Plaintiffs are entitled to a Vaughn index

1 specifying any such documents and justifying all withholdings and have requested that Defendant 2 provide its Vaughn Index in advance of filing its motion for summary judgment to allow the 3 parties to narrow issues of dispute before the Court. See Bay Area Lawyers Alliance for Nuclear 4 Arms Control v. Dep’t. of State, 818 F. Supp. 1291, 1296 (N.D. Cal. 1992) (agency is required to 5 “provide a relatively detailed justification, specifically identifying the reasons why a particular 6 exemption is relevant and correlating those claims with the particular part of a withheld document 7 to which they apply”); see infra Section 17 (“Scheduling”).

8       Defendant’s Position: If required, Defendant will provide a Vaughn Index at the relevant 9 time, specifically if the parties file motions for summary judgment.

10      4. Motions: There are no prior or pending motions in this case. The parties anticipate filing 11 cross-motions for summary judgment if settlement negotiations are unsuccessful.

12      5. Amendment of Pleadings: The parties do not currently anticipate adding or dismissing 13 any parties, claims, or defenses.

14      6. Evidence Preservation

15       Plaintiffs’ Position: Plaintiffs respectfully request that Defendant provide an affidavit 16 describing Defendant’s evidence preservation efforts with respect to Plaintiffs’ FOIA request.

17       Defendant’s Position: Defendant will preserve evidence relevant to the issues reasonably 18 evident in this action. Plaintiffs cannot establish that Defendant is required to provide an affidavit
 19 describing Defendant’s evidence preservation efforts with respect to Plaintiffs’ FOIA requests, 20 and Defendant declines to do so at this time.

21      7. Disclosures:

22       Plaintiffs’ Position: Plaintiffs contend that with limited exceptions, initial disclosures are 23 normally not required in a FOIA case such as this. Plaintiffs do not anticipate the need for initial 24 disclosures, but reserve the right to request them if unanticipated issues and disputes arise.

25       Defendant’s Position: This case is likely to be decided on the administrative record, and 26 as such is exempt from initial disclosures. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(B)(i).

27      8. Discovery:

28       Plaintiffs’ Position: No discovery has been taken to date. Plaintiffs contend that with 1 limited exceptions, discovery is normally not appropriate in FOIA cases such as this. Plaintiffs 2 anticipate resolving the document production issues presented in this FOIA case informally, or 3 via cross-motions for summary judgment, without the need for formal discovery, but reserve the 4 right to conduct such discovery if unanticipated issues and disputes arise.

5       Defendant's Position: Defendant will object to discovery requests because discovery is 6 typically inappropriate in FOIA cases. See Lane v. Department of Interior, 523 F.3d 1228, 1134
 7 (9th Cir. 2008) (discovery is limited in FOIA cases “because the underlying case resolves around 8 the propriety of revealing certain documents”); Wheeler v. CIA, 271 F. Supp. 2d 132, 139 (D.D.C.
 9 2003) (citing Judicial Watch, Inc. v. Export-Import Bank, 108 F. Supp. 2d 19, 25 (D.D.C. 2000)); 10 Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights v. U.S. Dept. of Treasury, 534 F. Supp. 2d 1226, 1131-32
 11 (N.D. Cal. 2008).

12       9. Class Actions: Not applicable.

13       10. Related Cases: Not applicable.

14       11. Relief: Plaintiffs seek declaratory relief declaring that ICE’s failure to disclose the 15 records requested by Plaintiffs violates FOIA. Plaintiffs further seek injunctive relief ordering 16 ICE to expeditiously conduct an adequate search for all outstanding records responsive to 17 Plaintiffs’ FOIA requests, and to expeditiously and appropriately disclose, as soon as practicable, 18 all responsive, non-exempt records. Furthermore, Plaintiffs seek reasonable attorney fees and 19 other litigation costs reasonably incurred in this action pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E), and 20 any other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. Defendant seeks a dismissal of the action 21 with prejudice, and such other relief as may be appropriate.

22       12. Settlement and ADR: On May 12, 2017, after extensive negotiations, the parties reached 23 a settlement agreement regarding document production. However, the agreement has not yet 24 been signed because Plaintiffs are awaiting final confirmation from ICE. Originally, the parties 25 attempted to negotiate an attorneys’ fees agreement to be included in the settlement agreement.
 26 On May 17, 2017 Plaintiffs sent their attorneys’ fee request to ICE. However, because Plaintiffs 27 had still not received a response from ICE regarding their fee request by July 17, 2017, the Parties 28 agreed to amend the settlement agreement such that the agreement regarding document

1 production would take effect first, leaving attorneys' fees to be negotiated separately. That same 2 day, Plaintiffs sent an updated settlement agreement to ICE reflecting the decision to negotiate 3 attorneys' fees separately. To date, Plaintiffs have still not received a signed copy of the 4 settlement agreement from ICE.

5 ICE anticipates providing a signed copy of the settlement agreement, which they have 6 agreed to in substance, by August 10, 2017.

7 Because of the amount of time that has passed since the parties reached their agreement 8 regarding document production, if ICE does not sign the settlement agreement by August 11, 9 2017, the terms of the agreement may need to be changed to ensure that the data Plaintiffs are 10 receiving is current.

11 13. Consent to Magistrate Judge for All Purposes: The parties have consented to the 12 Honorable Magistrate Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley conducting all further proceedings including 13 trial and entry of judgment.

14 14. Other References: The parties do not believe that this action is suitable for reference to 15 binding arbitration, a special master, or the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

16 15. Narrowing of Issues: The parties have met and conferred and narrowed the issues in this 17 case, and plan to continue meeting and conferring to further narrow the issues prior to the filing 18 of cross-motions for summary judgment.

19 16. Expedited Trial Procedure/Expedited Schedule: The parties do not believe that this is 20 the type of case that should be handled under the Expedited Trial Procedure of General Order No.
 21 64 Attachment A. Plaintiffs propose the briefing schedule regarding document production and 22 cross-motions for summary judgment set forth in Section 17, below.

23 17. Scheduling: Plaintiffs propose the following schedule: Plaintiffs are waiting to receive a 24 signed settlement agreement regarding document production from ICE. If the settlement 25 agreement is not signed by August 11, 2017, Plaintiffs request that the Court schedule a 26 mandatory settlement conference to address both document production and attorneys' fees at the 27 earliest available time. If a settlement agreement is signed by August 11, 2017 as to document 28 production, Plaintiffs request that the Court schedule a mandatory settlement conference as to 1 attorneys' fees only for October 2017.

2       Defendant's Position: Defendant anticipates providing a signed settlement agreement to 3 Plaintiffs no later than August 10, 2017. Defendant maintains that scheduling a mandatory 4 settlement conference as to attorneys' fees is premature.

5       18. Trial: The parties anticipate resolving the document production issues presented in this 6 case before trial, informally or via cross-motions for summary judgment.

7       19. Disclosure of Non-Party Interested Entities or Persons:

8       Plaintiffs have filed their Certification of Interested Entities or Persons pursuant to Civil 9 L.R. 3-15, certifying that the following listed persons, associations of persons, firms, partnerships, 10 corporations (including parent corporations) or other entities (i) have a financial interest in the 11 subject matter in controversy or in a party to the proceeding or (ii) have a non-financial interest in 12 that subject matter or in a party that could be substantially affected by the outcome of this 13 proceeding: As of this date, other than the named parties, there is no such interest to report.

14       Defendant's Position: Defendant is exempt from this requirement as a federal 15 government entity.

16       20. Professional Conduct: All attorneys of record for the parties have reviewed the 17 Guidelines for Professional Conduct for the Northern District of California.
